

DATES ARE SET FOR THIS YEAR'S FAIR

C. M. Irwin Is Elected President of Organization.

FORMED AT TOPEKA

Entertainment Will Be September 26 to October 1

According to plans made by the Kansas Fair association, organized at Topeka yesterday, Wichita's carnival and fair festival will be held this year beginning September 26 and lasting until October 1.

The meeting was enthusiastic and there were representatives present from the following cities: Topeka, Wichita, Hutchinson, Frankfort, Iola, Ottawa, Burlington, Great Bend and Newton.

The secretary of any fair association in Kansas is eligible to membership in the organization and the fee is $5. Officers were elected for one year, as follows:

C. M. Irwin, president; C. L. Fendler, Hutchinson, vice president; C. H. Sampson, Topeka, treasurer and secretary.

The organizing of such an association was necessary to avoid a conflict of dates in the holding of fairs.

Another plan of the association is to advertise the different fairs. After the dates have been set advertisements will be placed in stock papers giving the time of the different fairs and the amount of prizes to be awarded. It is thought that this plan will interest and bring many horsemen to the state who have not been here before.

A meeting of the association will be held each year and new ideas will be exchanged and plans for each year discussed. This feature will no doubt result in much benefit to the fair managers.

COLD WAVE IS PROMISED

TELEGRAM SAYS THERMOMETER WILL TAKE SUDDEN DROP.

Prediction Is That Temperature Will Fall to Within Ten Degrees of Zero by Night.

Forecast for Wichita and vicinity: Fair weather and colder. For Kansas: Fair weather.

A telegram was received yesterday from Chicago that there could be a cold wave today and that the temperature would be as low as ten degrees above zero by or during tonight. Mr. Todd says that all indications point to a short spell of cold weather.

According to information from Washington a cold wave started south from the northern states, and in all probabilities will reach here today or tonight.

Ed Hicks, the weather observer of St. Louis, also predicts a cold wave to begin today and last until about the 19th or 20th. Therefore it will be concluded that, as all the weather forecasters of the country have set their heads to predict the same kind of weather it is almost certain that there will be a few wintry days.

Clear weather prevails this morning except over portions of the Pacific coast, Middle Plateau, Kansas, South Dakota and Minnesota. The Alberta disturbance, central over Montana yesterday morning, has formed a trough of low pressure that extends from Manitoba southward to the Texas Panhandle. The pressure continues high over the Middle Plateau region and is highest over the Ohio valley.

The precipitation in the past 24 hours has been insignificant. Mild temperatures are generally shown throughout the country except over northern Montana and Assiniboia.

Minimum temperature, 20 degrees; maximum, 60 degrees.

UNION REVIVAL MEETINGS.

Services Are Announced for Sunday Afternoon and Night.

The afternoon meeting at the First Presbyterian church yesterday was well attended. The evangelist took for his theme the sin of profaning God's name; text: "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain."

He made an earnest appeal for purity of speech and showed the awful sin of profanity; that it was wrong to speak lightly of his name; that it should be used only in reverence and worship. At the close of the sermon the Sunday school workers were called together. His earnest appeal for more zealous work among the young people stirred the hearts of his audience. The home prayer meeting committee were then called to meet. About 75 of them were present. This committee represents the whole city. Arrangements are being made for at least 20 prayer meetings to be held in the various parts of the city on next Tuesday morning.

Long before the hour for public preaching in the evening the church was filled to overflowing to hear the evangelist in his evening sermon. The singing was better than usual, there being a large chorus choir present. The solo given by Mr. Hillis was listened to with great attention. He has won the admiration of the musical circles of Wichita.

Mr. Osterman's text was a simple passage—1 Cor. 13:8, "Ye are not your own." He declared that man settled a great question when he decided who owned him. He said that man's independence was his calamity. Man was incapable of self protection; in emergencies he was helpless. Jesus comes to be his protector. God needs man and therefore should own him. The most sane thing a man can do is to acknowledge him in his preservation. Open rebellion is but morally to put. Man is a costly being. Before he was 16 years old he had cost his mother anxiety and trouble. He had cost his teacher much in his discipline and education. God proposes to take what is left after sin has done its work and make of him a jewel.

He severely attacked the liberal teacher who would advise man to go on in his way without change of heart or life. At the close of the sermon the after meeting was held for seekers of salvation. Announcement was made for preaching at 6:30 a. m. Sunday at the First Presbyterian church. Preaching at 1:30 and 7:30 at the Auditorium on Sunday.

Dr. Greene's Nervura

the world's greatest nerve tonic and stomach regulator. Read the experience of Mr. Colin R. Dunn, 14 Minton St., Dorchester, Mass. Mr. Dunn says:

"I was in very poor health and weighed but 92 pounds, and my stomach was in such poor condition that I could not enjoy my food. I secured a bottle of Dr. Greene's Nervura, and when I had taken one bottle I was able to eat a great deal better and felt a desire for food, so I continued taking it. To-day I weigh 131 pounds, and instead of going about on crutches, I can walk and enjoy myself like any other young man."

Marion Brockman, the painter, who was arrested Wednesday charged with embezzling $50 of his employer's money, is still confined in the city jail.

It will have a basement under the entire length and one story in height. Mr. Bissantz has found it necessary to erect this building in order to keep pace with the wholesale ice cream manufacturing which has grown to enormous proportions.

This building, with the exception of a few offices in front, will be used principally for an ice cream factory.

Architect Parsons has just finished the plans and the building will be put up as soon as the material can be got on the ground.

Harry Titus Dies at Kansas City.

OF LUNG HEMORRHAGES

Items of Interest About Different Employes.

Harry L. Titus, live stock agent for the Santa Fe, with headquarters at Wichita, died of hemorrhage of the lungs yesterday morning at Kansas City. The body has been taken to Cedarvale, Kan., where funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock and interment will be made.

Harry Titus was perhaps one of the best known Santa Fe employes in this part of the state. He held the position of live stock agent for the company eight years, during which time he visited Wichita regularly one or two times each week. "He was kind-hearted and one of the best known and well liked employes of the company," said Col. L. R. Delaney, an intimate friend of Mr. Titus.

At the time of his death Mr. Titus was about 22 years of age. He had been in the railroad business nearly all his life. He began to work as a clerk in the company's offices at Kansas City. His father is Eli Titus, general live stock agent for the Santa Fe, with headquarters at Kansas City. Cedarvale, to which place the body was taken for burial, is a former home of the Titus family.

LINK AND PIN.

Last Friday night as Engineer Tack's train of run No. 37 approached the east end of the bridge across the Arkansas river a signal was given him to stop by persons on the bridge. He brought his train to a standstill and ran ahead to discover the trouble. When he reached the spot he found that a donkey had fallen through and was fast. As Mr. Tack left the scene and returned to his engine he said: "I presumed that it was some conductor or brakeman."

J. M. Huff, regular engineer on the Wichita and Western branch of the Santa Fe, was pulling the throttle of a new locomotive, No. 52, yesterday. The engine will be used regularly on the V. and W. No. 123, which has seen several years of service out of Wichita, will be taken to the shops at Wellington for repairs.

According to friends, Robert Phinney, cashier in the local freight office of the Frisco, has about completed the invention of a folding door to be used on grain cars. It is said that nothing has ever been invented that compares with the new door and Mr. Phinney intends to apply for a patent soon.

John Ostler, inspector for the Western Workingmen's association, slipped and fell between a platform and a drag wagon at the Santa Fe warehouse. He was severely but not seriously injured about the back. He continues on duty.

A. H. Webb, superintendent of the southern division of the Missouri Pacific, left yesterday after remaining here for several days on business. He will make a tour of the line through southern Kansas.

J. R. Frailey, a newly appointed Santa Fe claim agent to this part of the state, was a caller at the local offices of the company yesterday. He will have headquarters at Wellington.

Fireman Ed Carpenter, who has been sick with appendicitis in the Wichita Hospital for the past two months, is able to be out again and will resume his duties in a few days.

Wayland Brown, who has been employed at the Missouri Pacific freight depot as expense clerk for the past six months, has resigned to accept a similar position in Kansas City.

C. W. Jones, superintendent of the Kansas division of the Rock Island, of Kansas City, arrived here yesterday in his special car, No. 1904.

A. M. Bentley, a Missouri Pacific fireman, went to Fort Scott yesterday where he will take the examination on machinery.

Master Mechanic W. L. Kellogg of the Missouri Pacific made a trip out of the city yesterday morning and returned last night.

Music and Drama

Coming Attractions for Wichita Amusement Lovers.

At the Crawford.

The "Wizard of the Nile" a comic opera in three acts, was presented by the Jules Grand Opera company last night at the Crawford to a large and enthusiastic audience, who seemed well pleased with the performance by the liberal applause which was given throughout the play.

Although Wichita theater-goers have heard much about this opera, few have had the pleasure of seeing it until last night. The play in itself contains many bright lines and witty sayings which were new and up-to-date, and the music, sparkling with the introduction of several catchy songs, was one which the lovers of this class of entertainment enjoyed immensely.

The cast of the play was well chosen for every part, and gave eminent satisfaction. Mr. John Henderson played the part of Kibash, a Persian magician, making a tour of Egypt, who, by his great skill, brought forth the flood of the Nile, to his own surprise, for he had started to bluff the king to save his head from the block, and so when Providence had so favored him the king announces he is to marry his beautiful daughter, but his luck is either too good or too bad. Thus one minute he has the royal family at his mercy and the next is confronted with some horrible torture from which he is to escape.

Mr. Henderson played the part of Kibash, who appreciates work for this grand individual so much he has been in his service for six years, salary unpaid, was presented by Ethel Balch in a most admirable way. She possesses a good voice, which was especially pleasing.

Cleopatra, a princess who knows naught of love, was played by Anna Tyley, who captivated the audience by her voice, is sweet but forceful in singing, "In Dreamland," won much praise on the control of her voice. In fact, every member in this company were far above the average of opera companies on the road, each member of the company having splendid voices. The chorus was a feature of the evening, and deserved much praise for their good work throughout the performance. Gorgeous costumes and the most appropriate which gave one a good idea of the land along the Nile, made this one of the most satisfactory attractions of the season.

A very funny incident in the play was in the first act where the young lady drops the biblical bowl, which caused the audience to hold their breath, but it seemed to be made of rubber, caused a laugh that was not on the program. Tonight, "Uncle Josh Spruceby."

"UNCLE JOSH SPRUCEBY." The old-fashioned "hunking bee" with its country dance and harvest festivities, occupies one act of "Uncle Josh Spruceby," the New England comedy drama. The scene is laid in "Uncle Josh's" barn on the old Vermont farm. The heaps of yellow corn, the stacks of pumpkins, the mows stuffed with hay and fodder all proclaim that the harvest is over. The country maidens, dressed in their best, hunk corn, beat the drum, sing swains. Now and then a red ear is found, a kiss—the usual prize—demanded and given with a show of reluctance on the part of Samanth. After the husking comes the supper and dance, which is kept up until the ringing sleigh-bells at the door proclaim the time to depart. At the Crawford, matinee and tonight.

"THE CONVICT'S DAUGHTER." One of the melodramatic productions on tour this season, "The Convict's Daughter," will form the attraction at the Crawford Tuesday, January 19. It is a story of a worn-out, weather-beaten play, but entirely original and up-to-date in every detail, and its success is already established. A competent and expensive company is required to give an adequate interpretation of the various characters. The great sensational scene is a jail-yard, where convicts are at work rebuilding a wall beside a railroad. In this scene a locomotive and twenty freight cars cross the stage. As the train passes the wall, one of the convicts, standing on the top stones, leaps for liberty to the roof of the car. A guard fires, but misses and the prisoner is soon free. The convict is a "Wesley Wally," who finally becomes wealthy and happy, his innocence being proven by the confession of a dying man. His daughter marries the man whom she has loved and waited for many years, and all ends very happily.

"The Katzenjammer Kids." Bonnell & Kennedy's musical comedy, that is to appear at the Crawford Wednesday, January 20, is said not only to be a very funny show, but creates no little amusement to many who try to pronounce or spell the word "Katzenjammer." The latest and most modern style of getting at the word in the way of pronunciation would be "Cats-in-Jam-or-Kids."

The poetry and sensuous, languorous beauty of the dreamy south has been at all times a prolific field for the pen of writers of fiction and the drama. In "At the Old Cross Roads," which will be seen here at the Crawford, Thursday, January 21, the author has conceived an intensely interesting drama of real life of that section, and the characters have been drawn with a master hand. The company is a splendid one and will again be headed for the third season by Edith Williams, who has given such a remarkable performance of the role of "Parepa," the woman, and James M. Murphy, the well known and popular romantic actor. Despite the fact that the play gave the best of satisfaction last season, Manager Arthur C. Alston, who is always looking to better his attractions, has engaged as a special feature the "American Four Quartette," one of vaudeville's best known headliners for the past few years.

At last a "cure cure for the blues." Such has been the remark of every one where the latest laugh-maker, Willard Simms, and his big supporting company, in Ollie Mack and Joseph M. Gaites' production of "Pickings from Puck" have appeared. The comedy announced for presentation at the Crawford on Friday.

many several months ago, and the result was that Mr. Jacob shot and Miss Mary Moll, of Wurttemberg, Germany, are now residents of Sherman county, and came to town Wednesday from the home of Mr. Mangold, in Grant township, uncle of Mr. Shoop, to do some trading. But the young people cannot speak a word of English, and consequently H. H. Auer, who knew of their coming, kept a look out for them when they arrived here three weeks ago, and saw to it that they were taken to Mr. Mangold's place, yesterday accompanied the pair to the store and acted as interpreter in making their purchases.

Mr. Shoop is a young man 25 years of age, and while he very naturally shows the characteristics of the fatherland, there is still in him the making of a first-class American citizen. Miss Moll is a about little lady 23 years of age, and her rosy cheeks and blue eyes give her the charm that belongs to a German girl.

A letter from Mr. Mangold, a widower, to his folks in Germany, forms the background of the plans that brought this young couple across the ocean, and consequently improvements are being made upon the Mangold home in Grant township, preparatory to making a comfortable home for all, and a little later, it is understood, Mr. Shoop and Miss Moll will be married and will settle down to form life and to help Mangold in the operation of his ranch.

Mangold is a German, and has lived in Sherman county for 15 years. He is a widower, and having no children the care of his ranch and his big herd of cattle has not been divided with enough of the poetic life to satisfy the hungering in this respect. And having a brother in Germany, Mangold wrote saying that if his son, Jacob, would come to America he would pay all expenses and take him into the business of his ranch, and also added that if Jacob had a girl he would like to have her come, too.

and sure enough, he hit the nail on the head. Jacob had a lady whom he loved. He at once fell in with the plan, and the more he thought upon it the more it gathered to itself the charm of romance, and one day he opened the story to Miss Moll, who could not think of having the big ocean separate them, and she would come too, but not before being told that the American uncle wanted the girl also.

And so the whole matter came to be happy a conclusion as could be imagined. They enjoyed a happy voyage upon the ocean, are delighted with America, and are going to help in the making of the
